

Before You Book Any Limo

7 questions to ask every company you're considering

Ask each company the same questions and check the box for every clear "yes." A low quote means little if the vehicle isn't licensed or insured to carry paying passengers. Verify any Pennsylvania carrier with the PA Public Utility Commission at puc.pa.gov or 1-800-692-7380.

QUESTION	COMPANY A	COMPANY B	COMPANY C
1 Are you licensed by the PA PUC? What is your certificate number? Every for-hire limo in PA needs one. Look it up yourself.	☐	☐	☐
2 Do you carry commercial for-hire insurance? Can I see proof? Personal auto policies don't cover paying passengers.	☐	☐	☐
3 Are your chauffeurs employees or independent contractors? Employees are trained, supervised and accountable to the company.	☐	☐	☐
4 Are chauffeurs drug-tested, road-tested and safety trained? Ask about pre-hire AND random drug testing.	☐	☐	☐
5 For 16+ passengers: does the driver hold a CDL with passenger endorsement? Required for larger buses. Many cheap operators skip it.	☐	☐	☐
6 Can I see the exact vehicle I'm booking, in person? Brokers often don't own any vehicles at all.	☐	☐	☐
7 Who do I call if something goes wrong, day or night? Look for a real office, after-hours line and your chauffeur's cell.	☐	☐	☐

WHY THE CHEAPEST QUOTE CAN COST MORE

- If an uninsured or improperly insured vehicle has an accident, passengers' claims can be denied.
- The person who signed for the rental can be named in a lawsuit along with the operator.
- A quote 10–20% below licensed companies usually means something was cut: insurance, licensing, driver screening or maintenance.
- Split the difference by passenger. A $150 gap for 10 people is just $15 each for peace of mind.
